NATIONAL WHIG | VOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDE INT, GENERAL WINFLELD SCOTT, OF NEW JERSE Y.

> FOR VICE PRESIDE, VT. WILLIAM A. GRALHAM, OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Our Candidates and Our Ca use. The tenacity with which the friend's of the several Whig candidates for the nominatio. I clung to their respective favorites might well pr. spare us to witness their tardy and reluctant acquiescence in the selection of any other person; and we accordingly find in several localities good and true Whigs whose regrets could not subside with the setting sun of Monday evening. To regard these instances as important indications of the weakness of the Whig cause, however, is to err most egregiously; and the politicians who build their hopes upon such grounds are but preparing for themselves a disappointment both surprising and vexatious. The Whig party never entered upon a campaign with better-grounded hopes of success than those by which they are now animated, and their opponents never more dreaded a leader of their choice! "Scott, GRA-HAM, and the PLATFORM," is a cry that is destined to arouse to action and success the Whigs of the entire Union; while it will both inspire with awe the designing leaders of the opposing party, and win from their ranks the truthful, honest, and patriotic of the toiling thousands these would delude as followers in their train!

The orators and writers of the Democratic party have for many months labored without cessation to prove to the Whigs and to the country that the Whig party would prove false to itself and to the republic, if it should adopt for its candidate any person not firmly planted upon certain principles of the constitution, to which the Whig party has throughout its existence been known to be steadfastly devoted. They have (with perhaps a few discreditable exceptions) always admitted the high reputation, the exalted worth, and the illustrious services of General Winfield Scott; but, in the blindness of a stubborn spirit, they have appeared to adopt the thought, to which the wish was father, that he would not occupy the high position that has ever been so eminently his own upon the requirements of the constitution of his country.

But the Whig Convention assembled, and, disregarding the example of their opponents, first laid down the principles of their government, and then selected the man who was worthy to lead them to victory upon those principles; and, without stultifying themselves, it is impossible for the Democrats to oppose either the man or the platform upon which he stands.

But acquiescence even in what they cannot honestly oppose is not the policy of the managers of the Democratic party. Regardless of both men and principles, their eyes are fixed with intensity upon the executive department of the government, with all its honors, eclat, and emoluments! Their hearts are fixed upon success, and they are determined that no conscientious scruples shall stand in the path between them and the goal of their desires. Unable to denounce, before the American people, either our candiclates or their principles, they seek, by the most paltry strategy, to excite prejudices against them from the fact that men of sentiments on the slavery question to which the South cannot assent are found among the supporters of the Whig candi-

This, the great and only basis of hostility, cannot survive the careful examination of any unor, if it be found to have any weight, it must fall with oppressive and destructive force upon the candidates of our opponents. For by whom are they supported? Firstly, by Governor Dorr, who, to achieve a purpose in a directly unconstitutional manner, became a traitor to his State, and took up arms in hostility to her legal government. Next, by the Democratic party (how the term is prostituted!) of New Hampshire, who have in the most disgraceful manner perpetuated the oppression of their fellowcitizens of the Roman Catholic faith. Then, by Messrs. Rantoul, Sumner, Wilmot, et omnes, who are every one of them just as inimical to the loud-talkers and managers of the Democratic party as can possibly be either Governor Seward or Governor Johnson, whose aid they covet with all their hearts and souls! And then they have the aid of all the extremists of the South, whose disunion, secession, nullification, and balance-ofpower trickery have for years disturbed the peace and harmony of our government.

The party that have all these aids and adjuncts beneath their protecting wings, are dren. not the men by whom the Whigs may be rebuked for permitting sectionalism to expire, and awaken to a new and more beautiful life beneath the standard of the American Union!

The Whig party stands upon national grounds. The preservation of the Union, the independence the business of the State Department; and that, agriculture, and the mechanic arts, are the the mission to England may be tendered him. measures to which our party is devoted; and in the prosecution of them, we will follow the noble leaders of our choice, and, under the smiles of a benificent Providence, march on to conflict and to Bay The spontaneous and enthusiastic turnout of the Whigs on Monday night is described by the Union as a ludicrous affair. The Alexandria Age echoes the Union's song, but introduces as grace notes some sayings about "Fuss and Feathers," "the Baltimore Pow-wow," and "Tom Corwin." The Trenton (N. J.) Republican Privateer describes the Whig ticket as that of "the Northern Whig doughface dirt-eaters!" We beseech our Democratic friends to keep this up. Give us the benefit of your abuse and ridiculebut taint us not with your praise!

Ha-ha-ha! Our Democratic friends think it so ridiculous to see the friends of Fillmore, Webster, and Scott uniting hearts and hands in laugh with them. There is surely some sort of make merry at. We hope our friends of the other city. side will continue to regard it as a funny theme.

Congress To-day.

SENATE .- No morning business occurring, Mr. Underwood moved that the Senate take up for consideration the resolution offered by him to amend the rules by providing that an amendment to a bill may be laid on the table without carrying with it the original proposition. This was debated for some time, and then reected.

House of Representatives. - The House took up the bill, heretofore passed, providing nore effectually for the punishment of incendiarism in the District of Columbia, and agreed to the amendment of the Senate thereto.

The House considered the Pennsylvania contested election case: H. B. Wright contesting the sent of Henry M. Fuller, of the 11th Congressional district of that State.

A Cuban Plantation. A writer at Havana communicates to the New York Express an account of the plantation of W. H. Stewart, esq., of Philadelphia, on that island. It contains 157 caballeries of land, or 5,283 American acres, 1,666 of which are planted in canes, which in 1851 produced 3,209 hhds. of sugar, weighing 4,098,088 pounds, and 1,558 purcheons of melasses, 200,668 gallons, which sold in the United States for $147,000. The actual expense for the year was $22,000, and new machinery $8,000. The gang of slaves on this plantation consists of 457, of whom 180 are children, from one month to ten years old-16 or 18 are old and decrepid, and 20 are employed as servants, grooms, nurses, &c. Deducting the above, there remain 300 effective for agricultural purposes and manufacturing sugar, each slave making 13,660 pounds; and, taking the whole adult population of 327, it was 12,532 pounds per slave. The writer says he never saw finer or healthier set of people than on this property; and they are well and humanely treated, flogging being very rarely resorted to: and their increase averages four and a half per cent.

The steamer Prometheus, at New York, brought an account of the arrival at San Juan de Nicaragua of the British war-steamer Albion, with a notification that the governments of Great Britain and the United States had agreed to guaranty the independence of San Juan. On the second day after the receipt of the intelligence, the event was celebrated by a dinner given by a party of Americans to the mayor and councils of the city. There was no little rejoicing over the recognised and guarantied independence of the port, which is evidently viewed by the American residents as the nucleus for a new State, to be controlled and ever such improvements are necessary for the common eventually peopled by anglo-Saxons. The Baltimore American says it looks like another step in the progress of "manifest destiny."

Eruptive !

The Southern Press, which delights in family quarrels, rubs its hands in ecstacy of pleasure, like Mawworm in the comedy, and announces that Mr. Giddings, a Whig, and Mr. Townshend, a Democratic Freesoiler, both held forth vesterday in the House of Representatives with voices still for war; that Messrs. Toombs, Stephens, Cabell, Gentry, and Williams will not support Scott; and that the two first will insist on the Union organization in Georgia. There is no telling how patriotism and the measles will break out sometimes. We wish the gentlemen named a great deal of happiness wherever they may gowould prefer having them with us, but can succeed without them.

The Cholera.

We regret to learn from Cincinnati dates of the 22d, that the cholera was prevailing to some exand Lexington railroad, and that there were a few cases in that city also.

cholera had occurred there, creating quite of the Whig party and the integrity of the Union a panic, and that the theatres and other illventilated rooms were deserted. The papers of that date made no mention of the subject

At last dates cholera was prevailing to an alarming extent in Dubuque, Iowa, twenty persons having died in one day.

The great Whig Convention at Baltimore, on the 53d ballot, on Monday morning, nominated Gen. Scott for the Presidency of the United By this act the administration of the pure and unservative Fillmore has been impliedly rebuked and condemned by his own party.

Indeed? You wrong Mr. Fillmore, for whom you pretend so much admiration. The Convention heartily approved his administration. You must take the opponent you have so much feared.

Fatal Accident at Hartford. We learn with regret that on Monday evening, as the Whigs were firing a national salute of one hundred guns in honor of Scott's nomination at Hartford, Conn., a man named Viberts, who was assisting to fire the pieces, went before the gun ed the public schools in New York city. just as it was discharging, and was instantly torn to pieces. MURDER BY A MOB .- The Cincinnati Sun states day. that on the 14th inst. an infuriated crowd of Irishmen tore down the jail in the little town of Falmouth, forty miles up the Licking river, and murdered the jailor. The Kentuckians in the neighborhood assembled, armed with guns, and dispersed the mob by firing into it, killing and wounding seven of those engaged in it. It apthe good cause of a Whig triumph. We must pears an Irishman had been incarcerated for son offence-hence the mob. Great excitement, it is a joke in the matter—something to laugh and Irish inhabitants were compelled to evacuate the said, prevailed among the Kentuckians, and the

THE WHIG PLATFORM.

The Whigs of the United States, in Convention ssembled, firmly adhering to the great conservative republican principles by which they are controlled and governed, and now, as ever, relying upon the intelligence of the American people, with an abiding confidence in their capacity for selfgovernment and their continued devotion to the constitution and the Union, do proclaim the folowing as the political sentiments and determinafor the establishment and maintenance of which their national organization as a party is

1. The government of the United States is of limited character, and it is confined to the exercise of powers expressly granted by the consti tution, and such as may be necessary and proper for carrying the granted powers into full execution; and that all powers not thus granted or necessarily implied are expressly reserved to the States, respectively, and to the people.

2. The State governments should be held se cure in their reserved rights, and the general government sustained in its constitutional powers, and the Union should be revered and watched over as "the palladium of our liberties."

3. That, while struggling freedom everywher enlists the warmest sympathy of the Whig party, we still adhere to the doctrines of the Father of his Country, as announced in his Farewell Address, of keeping ourselves free from all entangling alliances with foreign countries, and of never quitting our own to stand upon foreign ground. That our mission as a republic is not to ground. propagate our opinions, or impose on other countries our form of government by artifice or force, but to teach by example, and show, by our success, moderation, and justice, the blessings of self-government and the advantages of free institutions.

4. That where the people make and control the government, they should obey its constitution, laws, and treaties, as they would retain their selfrespect and the respect which they claim and will enforce from foreign powers.

5. Government should be conducted upon principles of the strictest economy, and revenue sufficient for the expenses thereof, in time of peace, ought to be mainly derived from a duty on im ports, and not from direct taxes; and in levving such duties, sound policy requires a just discrimi nation, and protection from fraud by specific du ties when practicable, whereby suitable encouragement may be assured to American industry equally to all classes and to all portions of the country.

6. The constitution vests in Congress the power to open and repair harbors, and remove obstructions from navigable rivers; and it is expedient that Congress should exercise that power, when defence, or for the protection and facility of commerce with foreign nations or among the States; such improvements being, in every in-stance, national and general in their character.

7. The federal and State governments are parts of one system, alike necessary for the common prosperity, peace, and security, and ought to be alike with a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment. Respect for the author ity of each, and acquiescence in the constitu tional measures of each, are duties required by the plainest considerations of national, of State. and of individual welfare.

8. The series of acts of the 31st Congress com monly known as the Compromise or Adjustment (the act for the recovery of fugitives from labor included) are received and acquiesced in by the Whigs of the United States as a final settlement, in principle and substance, of the subjects to which they relate; and, so far as these acts are concerned, we will maintain them, and insist on their strict enforcement, until time and experience shall demonstrate the necessity of fur ther legislation, to guard against the evasion of the laws on the one hand, and the abuse of their powers on the other-not impairing their present efficiency to carry out the requirements of the tent among the laboring classes on the Covington | constitution; and we deprecate all further agitation of the questions thus settled, as dangerous to our peace, and will discountenance all efforts continue or renew such agitation, whenever A private letter, dated Cincinnati, the 17th instant, stated that a number of cases of Asiatic tain this settlement as essential to the nationality

Extraordinary Love-Letter.

In a collection of ancient tracts and manu-scripts, by Mr. Charles Clark, is the following curious and quaint love-letter, which was ad-dressed to a lady of Malden, England, in the year 1644. As it is a remarkable specimen of the then fashionable mode of inditing such compositions, we give it entire:

To the most choice Gentlescoman, and ornament of her sex, Mrs. Elizabeth Goode, daughter of Mr. Sebastin Goode, Enquire at Malden.

"MRS. ELIZABETH .- I have long been an earnest suitor to your honor and deserts, that I might be admitted an humble suitor to your sweet selfe; now, after many striveings and wrestlings, have almost prevailed. My next suit is, that your dearest selfe would comply with your dearest parents' desires and mine: they are most ready to part with a great part of their estate for your sake, and I most willinge to place all my joys and delights in you alone. Now it is, or will sodainely be, in your sole power to dash and frustrate, or crowne all my indeavors : hereby you will make me a most happy man, and your selfe (I hope) a no less happy spouse.

"Well, sweete Mrs. Elizabeth, be not afraid to venture on me ; as you have a most tender father and a most indulgent mother, so lett me, that I think Providence kept for you, furnish you with a very, very loving husband. Could you reade my most inmost thoughts, you would soon answere love with love. I here promise you, and will make good this promise againe (when that happy day comes) on holy ground, that I will love and honor you. "Knowe, this is my virgin request, the first re quest in earnest that ever came from my lippes or pen; my eyes have seene many younge gallants and virgins, but Mrs. Elizabeth is the de light of my eyes. "Among all the works of God, I delight most in beholdinge (the sun excepted) an amiable countenance; and such is yours, or none are in these parts of Europe. Your face is a mappe of beauties, your gentle breast a cabinet of vertues, and your whole selfe a cluster of all the choices delicacies; but, in plaine English, not your pleasinge aspect, nor well featured person, nor admired excellencies, nor weighty portion, fast ened my affections on you, but your love (of this I have been long perswaded) to a man (mysolf mean) so undeserving it.

"As for myselfe, I am thought worthy of a good wife, though unworthy of you. These pretty toyes, called husbands, are such rare commoditie in this age, that I can woe and winne wives by the dozens. I knowe not any gentlewoman these parts, but would kisse a letter from my hands, read it with joye, and then laye it up next her heart as a treasure; but I will not trye their courtesies except I find you discourteous.

"My last request is this: take a turn in private, then read this letter againe, and imagine the penman at your elbow. Next laye your hand upon your heart, and resolve to saye Amen to my de sires. If so, I shall accept your portion the left hand, but your lovely person with the right. Portions I can have enough to my mind in other places, but not a wife to my mind in any place of the wide world but at Malden. I hope. therefore, no place shall furnish you with a hus band but Kingstone, where lives in hope your most hearty friend and servant.

CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON, your bonor is at stake in this case. A citizen of the United States came to your eity to publish "The Truth," as the offspring of God; and to prevent it, he was accused of attempting the life of a Senator, and was illegally cast into prison and cut off from all communication with his friends; and, in all, he has been confined one hundred and thirty-four days, suffered cruel and unusual punishment, such as is given to great criminals, and that, too, without cause, save that he would not bow to the dictum of a cruel "Peterized" tyrant, one that cuts such vile tricks that caused angels, men, women, and children to weep. # PROSPECTUS

RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE. In the third week of June, 1852, will be commenced, in the city of Washington, a Weekly Campaign Newspaper, under the above title.

It will be devoted to the maintenance of gennine republican principles as avowed and practised by the great WHIG PARTY of the United States; to the preservation of the NATIONAL UNION, and of the RIGHTS OF THE STATES and the RIGHTS OF THE PROPLE under that Union; and in an especial manner to the election of GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT, as the nominee of the Whig National Convention, to the Presidency of this Republic.

It will be the agreeable duty of the editor to dwell and to descant upon the merits of a man around whose brow are entwined the laurels gathered on many a victorious field. During the long period of forty years his talents, his valor, and his humanity have nobly illustrated his country's honor; and the patriotic masses, the toiling millions of our widely-extended country, will, on the seventh of November next, arise in their power and majesty to bestow their suffrages upon their honored fellow-citizen-the hero, the patriot, and sage—and to proclaim THE GRATITUDE OF A REPUBLIC!

TERMS:

THE RIGHTS OF THE PROPLE will be published once a week-from the third week of June until the third week of November-at fifty cents.

Postmasters and others acting as voluntary agents, who may send five or more names, are authorized to reserve twenty-five per cent. for their trouble, or the advantage of this deduction may be shared by all the members of a club; and for each ten subscribers, on these terms, an eleventh copy will be also sent.

The notes of all specie-paying banks, gold, silver, and letter-stamps, will be received in payment. Address, T. C. CONNOLLY,

May. 1852.

AUCTION NOTICE.

THE subscriber respectfully announces to his friends and the public that he has commenced the Auction and Commission business on his own account, and offers his services for the sale of every description of real and personal property upon the most favorable terms.

With an experience of twenty years in the various departments of Auction business, the last four of which he has been personally known to the citizens of Weshington as the Auctioneer of the late firms of Dyer & Bro. and Dyer & McGuire, he deems it unnecessary to say more than that his personal attendance can be relied upon in all matters of business, and sales of any amount cashed without delay.

Until permanent arrangements can be made for the reception and sale of merchandise on commission, persons wishing to employ an Auctioneer will please call at the office of A. Rothwell, esq., on D street, east of 7th, where I can be found during business hours, ready and prepared to answer the balls of the public. Respectfully, june 9—dtf
